SATURDAY MORNING, - - - - - - JAN. 5.

Commerce of Chicago.

We copy, this morning, from our neighbors the Democratic Press, some statistical tables touching the business affairs of this city. We do not flatter ourselves that they are anything more than approximately correct, but such as they are we give them. The manner in which the books at the Custom House are kept precludes all possibility of accuracy in the returns from that quarter, and the method adopted by the several Railroad offices in their book-keeping, raises a doubt as to the reliability of statements from them. We think we can assure the reader that the errors do not detract from the importance of Chicago as a commercial town.

Certain circumstances, needless to mention, have prevented us from preparing tables of our own—circumstances that will not again interpose between our wishes and their accomplishment.

The shipments of Flour by Lake, Railroad and Canal, for the past three years have been:

SHIPMENTS OF FLOUR FOR THREE YEARS.

The appended table shows the shipments of flour from this port by Lake for a series of years:

In the table of shipments of Lumber as below given, that taken away by the Illinois Central is omitted, not because there have been no shipments by that route, but because we have no means of arriving at the quantity, and any figures given would be merely a matter of estimate:

Letter from Springfield.

Teachers' Institute—Old Fogyism, &c.

[Correspondence of the Chicago Tribune.]

SPRINGFIELD, Dec. 28.

EDS. OF TRIBUNE:—I arrived at this place, if not through much tribulation, through much cold. I came here to attend the Teachers' Institute, of which I design to give you a notice. The Teachers' Institute, is in session in the the Hall of Representatives, and has been, since Christmas. There are a goodly number of good-looking men and women present. We should think about one hundred teachers and members from different parts of the State are present. They appear intelligent, and the lady portion of the teachers have the addition of good looks, for we never knew a sensible woman engaged in a good work, who was not good-looking; and we most emphatically repudiate the old fogy notion that beauty is only skin-deep.

They are all here, men and women, in the good cause of providing the ways and means to educate the people.

Prof. Turner of Jacksonville, spoke on Thursday on Normal Schools, the burden of his talk being to point out the great want of education in the State, namely: the sympathy of the people. He wanted to bring the subject home to homes, to parents and to the people, and to awaken an enthusiasm for the education of the children, so that this death-like apathy should be broken. This is solemn truth. At the close he was most uncivilly assailed for advocating the Industrial University, with designs of a penal nature upon the State Educational Fund. He was followed by a Sprig of one of the colleges that are, with a resolution condemning discussion of the Industrial Education project, the first time the subject was alluded to, being in the said resolution. Belzebub being cast out of the resolution, by an amendment, it was passed without a dissenting voice. No body wanted to discuss the Industrial School Question.

Prof. Bateman of Jacksonville, in the afternoon and evening of the 27th, read two excellent addresses; one on school government, in which everything old-fashioned was torn up root and branch; in the other, on errors in education, there were some splendid passages, fine flashes of wit, some forward-march things, and but a few things of the dead past, which had better have been left out. This tirade against babyfied literature, (school books adapted to the comprehension of children,) was uncalled for, though valuable for its humor; yet the [illegible] culprits are defendable, for this simplification of school books is really one of the marked improvements of the age in that direction. For proof, in arithmetic, compare Dabol with Colburn.

The next day, Pres. Sturtevant of Jacksonville College, read an essay on the study of the classics. There were some good things in this paper, laid down in right energetic English that half convinced the hearer, as the lawyer's plea did the Dutch justice, that he had the right of the cause, and that the best way to educate the people, is to get them to talking Latin and Greek. But the fact, every where standing out pretty strongly that the virtue of the English has hardly yet been fairly tried by the million, brought us back to the old notion, that the best education you can give the people, is in that language most used, and in those branches most in need. There were many "flings" at reforms, and insinuations at Progress which were inexcusable from a President of a liberal College.

One thing was clearly noticable here, as almost every where in the sphere of morals, religion and politics, the line that separates old fogyism from Progress—Hunkerism from Reform—the line that separates the past from the present, on the one side or the other of which stand those go forward, and those who go backward. Our injunction to all Teachers, who would be useful, and wish to arouse an enthusiasm for education, is, that they go forward, and that they put them[illegible] in sympathy with those who are of the progressive order.

I am promised some data by which I can give you more definite information in regard to this Teachers Institute, when I may write you again.

Shall We Have a Public Meeting?

KANSAS---JUDGE SCHUYLER.

Judge P. C. SCHUYLER, just from Kansas, is at the Tremont, and will remain in the city for some days. He was one of the foremost of the Free State men, in the late difficulties, and comes to us so highly recommended as any man could be.

We would urge our citizens to call upon him. The story of the wrongs of the Free State men cannot be heard too often, or repeated too earnestly. We know only the half. Listening to Judge SCHUYLER, as he gave clearly and in detail, what the Missouri Ruffians did, or attempted; how the Free State men bore and forbore when insult and outrage were heaped upon them, and how coolly and courageously they prepared to resist, when the last fatal appeal was the only alternative left, we felt as if the Freemen of Chicago should not only give, with a full heart, their sympathy to the heroes of Kansas, but offer them the solid relief which they so much need. We suggest then, a public meeting, and a call upon Judge SCHUYLER to address it.

Four of the Southern States are acting. Already a colony from Georgia has reached Kansas. One citizen of Alabama has subscribed twenty thousand dollars for a company of three hundred emigrants, and the papers of Georgia say, that other companies will be sent forward forthwith. Shall we be idle? Shall the Freemen of the Free States be, or remain inactive?

Timid men may fear war, or another border conflict. There is no danger of it. The possibility of such a contingency has passed. Whatever else may happen, the Missourians will attempt no second "gun shot war"—the most the Ruffians will dare will be a sudden invasion, or a foray, at an election precinct, when it is safe to make it. But whether this shall be so or not, the men of the Free States should see to it, that Kansas is prepared for any emergency, and that her brave citizens shall not suffer, pecuniarily, in the battle they are so nobly and wisely fighting for free labor, free speech, and free soil. Let them hear our shout of applause and feel our sympathy. Let them know, by our material aid, that we are near to them, and will stand by them to the last.

Let us, then, hear Judge SCHUYLER, and, reader, if you doubt the propriety or importance of this step, if you fail to realize the imperious necessity of ACTION in behalf of the men of Kansas, turn to the latest news from that quarter, and ponder well upon your duty, and their need—say, whether you can, whether you dare permit ruffianism to run riot on the border, if your arm, your sympathy, or your dollar can help to brand or blast it.

Report of the Sewerage Commissioners.

The Sewerage Question is the thing of more vital importance to Chicago than all other questions besides. It may be neglected this year and the next, and mayhap for half a dozen years yet to come; but the time is not far off in which so much of the health, prosperity and population of this city will hinge upon it, that it cannot longer be deferred. It is the part of wisdom to attend to its settlement now, when a pressure of unfavorable circumstances coupled with loud popular clamor, does not drive the corporation into the adoption of plans inadequate to the work to be done,—now, before the reputation for healthfulness, to which Chicago is entitled, is marred by the occurrence of a mortality, wide spread and dreadful, that a want of proper sewerage will sooner or later bring upon us.

The plan recently matured by Mr. CHESBROUGH, aided by the Sewerage Commissioners, and published in all the city papers, is before the tax-payers for their adoption or rejection. We have given it a perusal. In fact we have seen its gradual development, have known of its alterations to meet new difficulties that have arisen, and we have all the time been aware of the care and labor with which it has been eliminated; and we see no reason why it should not meet with a general and hearty concurrence. It may be that defects will be discovered, that practical difficulties may arise, of which the theory has neglected to make proper account; but on the whole, it appears to be, beyond all question, the best proposition that engineering skill has been able to devise, while keeping within the range of the city's means to execute. It embraces all the territory that the city is at present able to drain; it admits of indefinite extension to meet whatever wants may be hereafter developed; it is unobjectionable on the score of economy; it is founded upon the results of patient and rigid experiments made elsewhere, and well known mechanical laws, and if adopted and carried out according to the intention of those who devised it, there can be no reasonable doubt that it will accomplish all that is desired.

Those of our readers who have dwelt long and anxiously upon this matter of Sewerage, (and there are many such) will be gratified to know that the fears so often expressed, that the site of Chicago would not admit of perfect drainage, are all unfounded, and that the topographical facts of the city's location are those the most favorable to the easy working of the system now most esteemed by all the leading engineers who have given the matter of Sewerage their attention. They will be gratified to learn that the altitudes and depressions of surface are as great as are needed, and that the relation of the lake to the city's site, heretofore deemed to be the great obstacle to be overcome, proves to be a fact of infinite advantage, inasmuch as it makes the adoption of the flushing system easier than in any other city in the country—a system that is a necessary part of all perfect sewerage wherever attempted. We mention this to encourage those who are doubting and to show how important are the facts that Mr. CHESBROUGH's investigations and surveys have brought to light.

We are not partisans of Mr. Chesbrough's plan or any other; and do not now so much desire that he should be followed, as that something should be done,—some step taken, that will by and by lead to the accomplishment of what Chicago needs and must have. Were the treasury full to overflowing, and the Commissioners able to give their Engineer a carte blanche as to cost, and tell him to go ahead, we should have no need to say a word. But such a condition of the municipal finances need not be hoped for or dreamed of. The calls upon the Treasurer are large and of frequent recurrence, and, as that are new improvements demanded, must be so for years to come. The question then is not what might, under other circumstances, be done; but what can be done now. We believe that the Commissioners have answered it in the best manner, and that the true policy is to follow their advice. If their plan is not adopted, what then?

The Press Knows.

To undertake to drive out Georgia money by the measures now on foot, is simply to inaugurate a war between bankers, while the innocent public, placed between the upper and the nether mill stones, are ground to powder.—There is not a business man of moderate means in the city of Chicago or surrounding country, and but very few of larger means either, who has not already realized the force of this remark; and it will come home to him with additional force each day that the war continues. The same is true also with respect to every other class of men, whether they be producers or consumers, employers or employees.—Democratic Press.

It is in vain that one hundred and ten of the business men of Chicago—all merchants, not a land speculator, or produce buyer among them—protest that the running out of Georgia money has not injuriously affected their business or made money tighter than it usually is at this season of the year. The Democratic Press virtually tells them that they do not know—that money is tight beyond all precedent—that they are paying 3 to 5 per cent a month for accommodations, and that if they continue to support the league, they will get between the upper and nether mill stone, and be ground to powder. One would naturally suppose that the merchants of this city know something about their own affairs; but by the Press's showing they do not. Why will they not be instructed? Obstinate merchants, why will you persist in telling such fibs? Why do you not run up to the hard times? Tell the truth, you naughty men!

Outrages at Leavenworth.

Ballot Boxes Destroyed.

PRINTING OFFICE GUTTED.

HOW IT WAS.

The telegraph gives a short account of renewal violence in Leavenworth some days ago.—That account is incorrect—(our St. Louis correspondent says purposely so) to conceal, perhaps, the deeper villainy and bolder outrages of the border scoundrels—for if the St. Louis Republican and papers of that kidney can only find an error or so, whether indirect or not, they will swear "all else" falsehoods, and discredit the Free State reports wholly. No houses were burned. The jail still stands. But the ballot boxes were destroyed and, a week after, the free state printing press gutted—the press being thrown into the river, and the types scattered along the streets. We copy from the correspondent of our namesake the details:

THE BEGINNING.

Dec. 17, 1855.

My attention was first attracted by large boatloads of people coming over the river. The ferry-boat is a large, wide flat-boat, capable of holding several wagons or many horsemen. They had commenced crossing in parties of ten or a dozen early in the forenoon; but about 12 o'clock they came over in whole boat-loads, and the island opposite seemed to be alive with them. About noon I learned from a person who had come down the river side that they were also crossing at the horse-ferry at Fort Leavenworth, three miles above, and were coming down by land. As the Missourians have never voted at these elections, pronouncing them "illegal," and have merely attempted to intimidate, I naturally concluded that all of these Platte County scoundrels were not coming over for any good. On inquiry I learned that Brigadier General Easton, of the Territorial Militia, had stated in his paper and had proclaimed that his "brigade" should be disbanded in Leavenworth that day; and as these fellows had been out in the "law and order" campaign against the "Abolitionists" of Lawrence, they were over to-day to get "an honorable discharge," which should entitle them to the gratitude of Uncle Sam, to the tune of $2,50 a day. But as this version of the story looked, I suspected that it only explained part of the truth. That the disbanding should have been postponed for five days, might have been accounted for on a mathematical calculation, to the effect that these five days would amount to $12,50 extra per man; but that it should have fallen exactly on the day that the new Constitution, framed at Topeka, was to be submitted to the people, looked a little like a calculation on the part of the gallant General Easton, or whoever had been at the bottom of it.

NOW THEY LOOKED.

I watched the emigration of these Border Ruffians for some time, and without the slightest wish to exaggerate, I do not think I ever before saw so many cut-throat-looking villains in one crowd. The groceries were thronged, and the spirit of evil commenced its work of inspiration. Hard-featured and whisky-flavored, unkept, unshaved—they evidently belonged to "the great unwashed and unterrified." With red blankets and blue blankets, and dirty-white blankets, and no blankets at all; with "garments dyed in mud," and of a homespun look, and many of them with long Western rifles, they swaggered about, cursing the "Abolitionists" generally, and a few persons about Leavenworth in particular.

WHAT THEY DID.

The Clerks and Judges of Elections had been closing the polls to go to dinner; (this was 1 P. M.) all of them had left the voting-room but three. The voting had been done at a window, and to this the crowd I have been describing made a rush; they were led on by two prominent Pro-Slavery men who live in the country a few miles out, the one an Irish Roman Catholic named Dunn, the other was Judge Payne, who was elected Judge of Leavenworth County by the bogus Legislature, and who is evidently a Southern man, and just as evidently not afflicted with any kind of religion. The window was driven in, glass, sash, frame and all. Dunn got on the sill and commenced a delectable formula, thus:

"In the name of 'law and order' I demand that ballot-box!"

"Nod—I parleying," cried Payne, cocking a six-shooter and presenting it at the clerks. "Take the box, G—d d—n it, take the box!"

Two of the three persons in the room at the time it was attacked, got off without injury, having arms; the third, a man named Wetherill, one of the clerks of election, and who was unarmed, tried to take away the ballot-box, and make his escape by a door opening on another street. Closely pressed, he threw the box under a counter, and as he emerged into the muddy streets was knocked down by clubs. Not less than thirty men were around him and jumping on him. The[y] could have done so for the crowd. It was the work of an instant, and immediately some few of the Free State men who had not been frightened off, interfered. The first who interposed was a Pro-Slavery man, who seemed to have a trifle of the Samaritan in him; but a young man from York State, named Anthony, and a man named Brown, both good and tried Free State men, cocked their pistols and rushed forward, as did some others. Wetherill was raised and carried home; and although he received some severe injuries, I am happy to add he is recovering.

THE BALLOT STOPPED.

The mob having got possession of the ballot-box and poll-books, paraded them off in triumph. The streets resounded with shrieks and yells, and it was evident that the half tipsy invaders were ripe for farther mischief. I walked through and among them, to hear their threats and exultations; I heard them discuss the next step in the programme, which was to throw the newspaper office of Col. Delahay into the river. Seeing this, I enquired of one leading Free State man for the whereabouts of the Mayor. Mayor Slocum had, I knew, been elected by the Free State men, by a large majority; but it turned out that the Mayor, like many others of the Free State men who have taken the lead here, was not "in the breach" in the hour of danger. He had sent up to the Fort for troops; a message which I knew was utterly futile, as the reply of the commandant, who refused to come, proved. A panic had seized the Free State men, or rather they wanted some bold and active leaders. The polls had been violated while most of the people were at dinner; but the Border Ruffians kept possession of the quarter of the town where the voting had been held, and but few Free State men were to be seen venturing among them. Perhaps the apology for this timid spirit lay in the fact that the men of Leavenworth were unarmed, or but indifferently armed, and that they had no volunteer or military organization, the known members and officers of which could be relied on. It was with a feeling of shame and bitterness that I saw these invading, lawless villains thus violate the dearest and most sacred rights of American freemen; and when I heard them gloat over their villainy, and plan the perpetration of further outrages, I asked myself; "Where is the strength of the National Government, that it has not found means to prevent these stereotyped outrages?" Alas, the Administration has already made itself "party of of the first part," and in prostituting itself to the behests of Slavery extension, has neglected the sacred duty of defending the rights of the settlers of Kansas.

WHAT FOLLOWS.

Col. Delahay's press was threatened, but the mob did not get it that day, Dec. 17. The "gun shot war" troops were then disbanded. PAYNE, both a Judge and a Colonel, called the meeting to order; Gen. Eastin addressed it. The point he pressed was that the soldiers there present should enroll themselves into regular volunteer companies as soon as they were disbanded. He said there were three thousand three hundred stand of arms due the Territory from the United States, and that if they took the proper steps they could get them. Atrocious as this proposal may look, I have investigated the matter as far as possible, and it is really the intention thus to get the arms designed for the defence of the Territory into the hands of those who are to invade it. A part of the force thus to be armed will be Pro-Slavery men, residents of the Territory; but the great bulk of these arms would thus find their way into the hands of the Border Ruffians. Let those in authority see to this important matter.

THE SPEECH.

After Eastin had been duly cheered, a Mr. G. W. Perkins (a general of some kind too, I believe,) got up, or rather sat on his horse and addressed them. He was rather a fine looking man, or would have been if he had been shaved. He spoke in a firm, decided voice, and pretty well; but "good Lord deliver us" from his policy. He began by calling them his "boys."

"You're my boys; yes, I will call you my boys; won't I?" [and they screeched and yelled a response till I thought he had an interesting family]. He did not altogether like the treaty that had been made with the "Abolitionists," their arms ought to be given up; [this suggestion seemed to give immense satisfaction to his audience]; but it was better that they should have come back as they did; they had earned a reputation as "law and order" men.

The Lawrence people were pledged to carry out the laws of the Legislature (not a fact, by the by) and that was what they were fighting to enforce. If these abolitionists did not do it they would go back and whip them next time; would they not? (yells and shouts of aye!) If he was ordered to march and burn and destroy Lawrence would not they go if he called on them? (yells of yes, yes, yes.) If he was ordered to go and destroy Topeka, and kill every one of the delegates of that lawless convention, and called on them, would they go? [cries of yes! yes! yes! d—n them!] They were the "Law and Order party," and they must remember that. They must stick to "law and order." There was a faction who wished to resist the laws of the Legislature, but those laws must be enforced, if every one of them had to die defending them! [cries of yes! and yells.]

The Speaker finished by complimenting their conduct, and urging them to be ready when called upon again.

Here a mounted orator from the crowd got the "floor," or strictly speaking, the mud. He was then a "Law and Order" man, and delivered himself of some general remarks on interesting topic which were intended as a prelude to his main subject, the "Law and Order" demonstration of that day.

"These lawless Abolitionists had dared that day, in Leavenworth, to carry out their treasonable attempt to vote for a Constitution but he was happy to say that it had been promptly put a stop to, [yells and shouts.] He proposed three cheers for the gallant Captain Dunn, who had been first in at that window [three tremendous cheers were given, followed by whoops and yells]. He would also propose three cheers for Col. Payne, the next in [again the cheering and yelling were made]."

Saturday, Dec. 30.

The ruffians did not destroy Delahay's office as they had threatened on the 17th. They burned some houses on Kickapoo owned by Free State men; another Free State man was fired at; and the house of still another was bored through and through by a cannon ball. But rain and snow drove them home without further notice. On the following Saturday, however, December 30th, they returned, got possession of the Register Office, dragged the press into the river, and scattered the type along the streets, gutting the establishment in savage style. The St. Louis Intelligencer, of Thursday, says:

The St. Louis Intelligencer of Thursday, has the following:

DELAHAY'S OFFICE DESTROYED.

Again has the hand of violence marked the course of the Border invaders in Kansas. I learn that the office of the Territorial Register, Col. Delahay's paper was destroyed by a mob partly of Pro-Slavery men from the vicinity of Leavenworth, but chiefly from Platte county, Mo. The attempt was made on Saturday night. Col. Delahay was absent at Lawrence, and none of those about his office attempted to defend it; indeed there was no resistance. The press, type, and the whole of the material was thrown in deep water in the Missouri river. A considerable lot of newspaper was burned. The citizens of Leavenworth did not attempt to resist the mob. The latter had some fighting amongst themselves, in the groceries around the levee, afterwards. Three or four men are reported to have been shot, but none were killed. The parties had been drinking freely.

The weather is intensely cold here. The Missouri and Kansas rivers are frozen over, and men and horses cross on the ice at Kansas City. ARGUS.

THE EFFECT.

Commerce cannot flourish amid violence. Business, therefore, suffers. But as if the pro-slavery men meant to drive the Free State men to arms, they had resolved to employ slave mechanics and thus cripple the white laborers.—Messrs. Russell, who do nearly half of the business of the place, and have one of the most extensive establishments in the West, have discharged all their hands, who were nearly all Free State men. Their establishment is connected with the overland and Government trains, and has extensive wagon, blacksmith, and carpenter shops. This step, if persisted in, must have a fatal effect on the prosperity of Leavenworth. Mr. Russell has employed some negroes recently imported. This has, of course, created a good deal of fluttering among mechanics and laboring men. Some of them talk of leaving. What renders the measure more cruel at this time is that the river being closed, the expense of stage travel, is very great; most of these men thought they were in for the winter. One of the discharged hands told me that Russell had said to him he "had no use of Free State men." Another assured me that Russell had asked him "if he had any interest in the Free State party?" Wishing to keep his situation, he replied that he had "nothing to do with either side," but this not being deemed sufficient, he was discharged. It is reported that the immediate cause of this was a threat from the Border Ruffians that his property would be burned if he retained these men. The Pro-Slavery men are playing a heavy game.

White men of the West, how long will you listen to this abuse? How long will you allow free labor and free will to be blasted by outrage and injustice? How long will you keep silent when such villainy and violence is proclaimed by a Pro-Slavery mob?

KANSAS ELECTIONS.

Nominating Convention.—On Saturday last, the 22d inst., a Convention was held in Lawrence, to nominate candidates for office, for the future State. They are to be voted for on the third Tuesday of the ensuing January, and will go into the discharge of their duties next spring if Congress admits Kansas as a State.

The following gentlemen were nominated for the various offices:

For Governor.—Charles Robinson, Republican; for Lieut. Governor, W. J. Roberts, National Democrat.

For Congress.—M. W. Delahay, National Democrat.

For Secretary of State.—P. C. Schuyler, Republican.

For Auditor.—J. A. Cutler, Whig-Republican.

For State Treasurer.—J. A. Wakefield, Free-Soil Whig.

For Judges of the Supreme Court.—S. Latta, National Whig——W. Conway, Free-Soil Democrat; Morris Hunt, Whig.

For Clerk of Supreme Court.—S. B. Floyd, Free-Soil Democrat.

Reporter of Court.—Thurston, Democratic Republican.

Col. Lane contested with Robinson for the office of Governor, but at the last ballot it stood, Robinson 55; Lane 22. The Douglas Democrats have got rather used up. Col. Delahay would not have got the nomination for Congress, only on account of his locality; the Convention in order to strengthen the ticket conceded part of the offices thus; but there was force enough in the Convention to have demolished Douglas and Pierce Democracy completely.

Col. Lane, who evidently felt badly beaten, has acted very well, and in a speech before the Convention, urged the Free State party to support the nominees.

For the Tribune.

Meeting of the Doctors—Grand Festival.

The first semi-annual meeting of the "Northern Illinois Homœopathic Medical Association," was held at Elgin on the 1st inst. Dr. E. A. Guilbert, of Elgin, presided, and Dr. D. A. Colton, of Chicago, officiated as Secretary. The meeting was well attended, and the proceedings were quite interesting. A considerable amount of business was transacted. Various important cases, with their treatment, were reported, and a general feeling of enthusiasm in the Homœopathic cause, characterized the action of the Association. Professor Gatchell, of Cleveland, Ohio, was present by special invitation, and by his enlightened remarks on various subjects before the meeting, gave great additional interest to the proceedings.

After the adjournment of the business meeting, Prof. Gatchell delivered a very entertaining Lecture on the subject of Medical Science, before a large and appreciative audience of the citizens of Elgin; at the conclusion of which, the members of the Association, with their guests, repaired to the Waverly House, to partake of a supper, especially gotten up for the occasion, by Mr. Chase, the urbane and excellent host, by request of Dr. Guilbert, of Elgin, Chairman of the Committee of Arrangements.

The repast was prepared in the very best style, and the company highly appreciated its excellence, voting Mr. Chase a resolution of thanks, and otherwise expressing their gratification.

After the edibles had been disposed of, or at least a large share of them, the President proceeded to give out the regular toasts of the evening, which were responded to by Doctors Ludlow, Gatchell, Goodhue, Guilbert, Colton, Jaeger, Bartlett, Wilcox, Williams, Chittenden (of Wisconsin), and others.

"The Press," of course, was toasted, when Mr. Chas. N. Pine, of Chicago (late an editor in New Jersey), who was present by invitation, was called upon. He responded in a short speech, in honor of the press and in relation to the progress of medical science, which was greeted with much applause.

The toast in honor of the "Legal Profession" was responded to by C. H. Morgan, Esq., in a brief and pertinent speech.

The toast, "To the Kane County Journal," was replied to by its editor, Mr. Smith, of Elgin, in a sensible and entertaining manner.

The Festival passed off with the utmost good feeling, and was creditable to the host and to all concerned. A large number of ladies and gentlemen participated in the Festive scene, and all went away apparently much happier than they came.

The next meeting of the Association will be held at Chicago, in June. HOMO.

Fire in Buffalo.

The Daily Republic of the 2d, says:

A fire broke out at about 7 o'clock this morning, in the large warehouses on Erie street, occupied by the firm of Mann, Vail & Co., for storage and commission. This morning the bookkeeper of the establishment went down to his usual duties, and found the doors of the two buildings occupied by the firm broken open, and flames appearing in two different parts of the building—the work of some villain, perhaps, balked in a scheme of plunder. It is supposed that the building was robbed, and then set on fire early this morning, as the flames had made considerable progress when the alarm was given.

About 9 o'clock, while the fire was still burning, an explosion took place, from what cause is not known, which lifted the entire roof of the four buildings about a foot, and shattered several of the brick partition walls, and otherwise injured the whole block. No one knew from whence it proceeded, and some alarm was occasioned lest there might be powder in the building. No other explosion took place.

The buildings were owned by Mr. R. D. Efner, and are insured. It is impossible at present to estimate the loss by Mann, Vail & Co. The warehouse was not yet full of goods, yet there must have been a large destruction of property. While the fire was burning, Mr. John DeLong was very severely injured by the fall of a ladder.

Wisconsin Election Frauds.

The Fond du Lac Herald has the following:

The voting operations in Waupaca are getting to be of so much notoriety that any additional items in regard to the matter are important. A gentleman from Waupaca, in whom the utmost reliance can be placed, was in this city on yesterday, and presented the following figures, which he obtained from the Clerk of Waupaca village at the time of the election, and which figures are in the Clerk's own handwriting:

Candidates.	Votes.
W. A. Barstow	[illegible]
Coles Bashford	[illegible]

Instead of returning these figures to the County Canvassers, this same Clerk returned the following:

Candidates.	Votes.
Barstow	[illegible]
Bashford	[illegible]

By this latter return—which is clearly a fraud, as no such vote was ever polled—Barstow gets 345 majority in the county, whereas, by the true vote, Bashford has 192 majority. The testimony of this gentleman may yet be of service in this matter, before a legal tribunal.

☞ Hon. E. R. Hoar gave the following toast at the Plymouth celebration: "The Rock of Plymouth—To the tyrant, the trimmer, the time-server, a stone of stumbling and a rock of offense;—but to him who will build thereon in the love of liberty and faith in God, a foundation, broad and strong enough to sustain the fabric of an empire, and to uphold the pillars of the firmament."

☞ A young gent in Schenectady, suffering from a too strong sensation of the more tender feeling, defines his complaint as an attack of heart-itude.

La Salle Coal Mining.

We cut from the La Salle Press of 1st January, the following paragraphs:

The coals of La Salle, and its vicinity, are now beginning to attract public attention. Until recently they have hardly been known abroad, and their importance scarcely appreciated at home. With the exception of two shafts already sunk, (one that of Messrs. Adams & Carleton, and the other that of Mr. Eggleston,) and others being sunk, no attempt at scientific mining has been made. The coal heretofore obtained has been entirely from the outcrop in the bluffs of the Little Vermillion and Swanson Ravine, where it has been more or less exposed to the action of the elements, and is therefore of an inferior quality compared to that which is obtained from the shafts. The La Salle coal basin underlines the Illinois river and the cities of La Salle and Peru, and crops out along the bluffs of the Big and Little Vermillion rivers, which empty into the Illinois near this place.

The La Salle coal field has three principal beds; the first being from four to five feet thick and the second about six, and the third from thirty inches to four feet. They lie in the order named, the first being nearest the surface, though they all crop out on the bluffs of the Big and Little Vermillion rivers. The depth at which they lie in other places depend upon the dip of the strata. Messrs. Adams & Co., at their shaft south of the Illinois river, about a mile above this city, have struck the third bed at a depth of less than one hundred feet. Mr. Eggleston, at his shaft, about eighty feet in depth, near the Canal, on the north side of the river, are raising coal from the middle bed. He is now working a six foot vein, the upper part of which is cannel coal, somewhat earthy, but of pretty good quality. The La Salle Coal Mining Company, (generally known as the Kentucky Company,) expect to strike the first bed at the depth of 190 feet, the second at 243, and the third at 335 feet. Their shaft, which is now sunk to the depth of 125 feet, has already penetrated several irregular seams of coal, but not of sufficient thickness to pay for working. The upper workable seam is considered rather inferior in quality to the second and third; but at the depth at which this company will strike it, it will no doubt prove superior to the coal obtained from the outcrop. Its quality has been tested; but this company as well as all others who have commenced or are about to commence sinking shafts, rely upon the middle and lower beds for the best coal, which will compare with any bituminous coal now in this State.

Three other Americans, in addition to those honored with the decoration of the Legion of Honor at the close of the Paris exhibition, have since received that distinction from Napoleon, viz: Charles Goodyear, M. B. Fields and Sterry Hunt. McCormick would have received the decoration also, if he had been at Paris. Mr. Goodyear, the India rubber man, has been three times in Clinchy for debt since he has been in Paris, in each case in consequence of an attempt to take dishonest advantage of him by means of the unjust bearing of the laws upon foreigners.

ANTHONY'S ILLINOIS DIGEST.—The success which has attended the publication of this work is highly creditable to the author, and is deserving of at least a passing notice among the many other home productions of value gotten up in our midst. The work was published in July last, and the edition consisted of one thousand copies.

By returns which have been recently received from the publishers by Mr. Anthony, we learn that the edition is already nearly exhausted, and that a new edition will be immediately required to meet the wants of the profession of his Digest, which will include the XVth and XVIth Vols. of the Illinois Reports and most full and complete references to the New York Reports, under every subject and title. This is emphatically a new feature in a Digest and will add greatly to its value. Mr. A. is yet a young man, but he has already attained a high rank in his profession, and if industry and indomitable preserverance are qualities to be commended we know of no one more deserving than he.—Chicago Democrat.

MINERAL POINT RAIL ROAD.—The Board of Directors of this Company have chosen Hon. Parley Eaton their President, in place of Moses M. Strong, resigned. Judge Eaton is a man whose qualifications for the office cannot be doubted, and we think the Board have acted wisely in selecting him for the important station.

The prospects of an early completion of the Road are highly flattering. A friend in New York writes us as follows, in relation to it:

"I am happy to inform you that the prospects of the completion of your Road by the 1st of September, are very promising. A portion of the iron is already purchased; more than enough for half the Road, and negotiations are in progress for the remainder."—Mineral Point Tribune.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.—A young man named Bartholomew, a marble cutter, and a nephew of Mr. Sherman, of the "Sherman House" in this place, was accidently shot yesterday by a comrade, while out hunting rabbits. His comrade let his gun off while uncocking it. The charge struck him in the face and eyes, at a distance of 4 or 5 yards, the accident occurring in the thick brush. We saw him yesterday as he was brought in to the Sherman House; his condition was pitiable in the extreme: both of his eyes, it is feared are put out, the right one having two shot through it, and the left, one shot. The physicians think, however that he will recover.—Belvidere Standard, Jan. 1st.

ILLINOIS IN 1828.—In looking over the Annual Register for 1827-8, we find the following:

"The editor of the Pioneer, published at Rock Spring, Ill., estimates that the annual increase of the population of that State, from emigration, has for the last three or four years, not been less than 12,000."

If that editor is now living, he might re-publish the same estimate as applicable to the last three or four years, and come very near the actual number of immigrants by the addition of another cipher. The population of Illinois in 1850, was 857,445.—Lasalle Press.

Kansas News—More Outrages.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 4.

A letter in the Democrat, dated Leavenworth, Kansas, December 29th, says the office of the Territorial Register, an administration paper, was mobbed, the type thrown into the river, and a large amount of paper burned. The mob was composed principally of Missourians.

The Free State party at their convention, on the 22d ult., nominated Charles Robinson, for Governor, W. G. Roberts, for Lieut. Governor, and M. W. Delahay for Congress. Election 3rd Tuesday in January. Col. Lane, Robinson's opponent in the convention, was defeated by a vote of 55 to 22.

Congressional.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.

The Courier's Washington correspondent telegraphed last evening. "Great efforts are made to induce Mr. Pennington to decline. The Democrats are alarmed at Southern American movements in favor of Mr. Boyce, but the authority of the caucus will be substantial. No organization is expected for weeks."

From Washington—Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.

HOUSE.—Mr. Dunn appealed to the Massachusetts men to surrender their personal feelings which stand in the way of the election; their great end would be attained by uniting upon Mr. Lester, whom he recognized as eminently fitted for the Speakership.

Mr. Knowlton replied that Massachusetts alone does not ask the election of Mr. Banks, but the great spirit of freedom has her hand upon him. He said that Mr. Dunn, and a few other gentlemen on the Anti-Nebraska issue, could, if they would, relieve the House from its entanglement.

Messrs. Jones, of Tenn., and Houston, regarded Mr. Banks' resolution, declaring Mr. Lester Speaker, as nothing more than a nomination, and denied the right to thus nominate, and required the House to vote for or against the resolution. It was tabled by a vote of 160 to 39.

Mr. Underwood offered a resolution which, he said, must necessarily result in an election, viz: that the first gentleman named on the list of members be put in nomination and failing to receive a majority of a quorum, the next one be voted, and so on till an election be effected. This was also tabled.

The 92d ballot was then taken with precisely the same result as the previous one. Adjourned.

A letter from a staff officer of the Free State forces at Lawrence, Kansas, claims a bloodless triumph over Gov. Shannon in the recent treaty; they having yielded no principle at issue. The letter further states that Gov. Shannon and Sheriff Jones talked of resigning if the people of Missouri will not keep quiet and mind their own business.

All speculation in relation to the Speakership is at an end. Many thinking there will be no election during the month.

Gov. Wells to-day in his message, expresses no policy of the Nebraska bill, but recommends acquiescence in it. He takes strong grounds against the liquor law, and recommends a license system. He also recommends the establishment of a Court of Common Pleas; condemns the alliance and naturalization laws, and the personal liberty act. Suggests attention to education; and opposes the sale of timber lands unless money is needed. Praises the reform school, and advocates improvements in the militia system.

The following is the vote in the Maine Legislature for Governor: In House—Reed, straight Whig, 99; Wells, Democrat, 86; Morrill, Rep., 60; Morse, 46; Holmes, 9. In Senate—Wells, 21; Reed, 7; scattering, 3.

From Canada.

KINGSTON, January 4.

Bright weather with severe frost. Ice between Cape Vincent and Kingston has been crossed by foot passengers. Two horses were taken over to-day, and sleighs expected to cross to-morrow.

A boy named Martin was drowned this forenoon while venturing in the direction of the current where the ice was insecure.

AFFRAY AT DUBUQUE.—We learn from the Republican that a fatal affray happened in Dubuque, on the last day of December, which has probably resulted in the death of two men. The parties were bawdy-house pimps, and the only regret is that they did not exterminate each other, to a man. Hamilton White is the stabber, and Benjamin Sanders and Johnny Castillo are the stabbed—all of a kidney, and all subjects for the hangman. Why didn't the constable let them fight it out, and then hang all the survivors. It would have saved trouble by and by.

EAGER.—At a recent land sale at Decorah, Iowa, so great was the eagerness of the crowd, that many of those wishing to purchase, stationed themselves at door of office, and though the thermometer was ten degrees below zero, remained at their posts all night and until 9 o'clock in the morning, determined not to lose their chances of getting what they wanted. To the honor of the officers be it said, that actual settlers, wanting to secure their homes, were, of all the crowd, first served. Several speculators were sadly bitten in other ways than by the frost.

FROZEN.—A young Englishman named Wm. Davis, was frozen to death on the night of the 28th ult., at Springfield. He wandered in a state of insanity and without an article of clothing on him, to the spot on the Chicago and Alton road where he was found in the morning stiff and stark.

FROZEN FLESH.—Mr. A. Bronson, of Meadville, Pa., says, from fifteen year's experience, he finds that Indian meal poultice, covered with young hyson tea, softened with hot water, and laid over burns or frozen flesh, as hot as can be borne, will relieve the pain in five minutes. If blisters have not arisen before, they will not after it is put on, and that one poultice is generally sufficient to effect a cure.

MANUFACTURE OF PAPER.—There are in the United States 750 paper mills in actual operation, having 3,000 engines, and producing in the year 250,000,000 pounds of paper, which is worth at ten cents per pound, $25,000,000. To produce this quantity of paper, 405,000,000 pounds of rags are required, 1½ pounds of rags being necessary to make one pound of paper.—The value of these rags, at four cents per pound, is $16,200,000.

PROPERTY OF THE FRENCH EMPEROR FROZEN IN.—It is stated that one hundred and fifty canal boats, loaded with flour and grain, consigned to Louis Napoleon, are frozen in between Schenectady and Little Falls, New York. The amount of grain cannot be less than $1,000,000, and ten freight cars a day are employed to carry it to tide water. They were engaged with difficulty, as the amount of freight business on the Central Road is enormous.

Mr. John Lawrence Bagler, in the Louisville Times, offers to bet from $5,000 to $3,000, that he can do as follows: jump five feet further on a dead level than any man in Kentucky—three further than any man in the United States—one foot further than any man in the world—or that he can stand flat-footed upon the earth and leap a brick wall fifteen feet high and four thick.

☞ Horses in California are becoming very dear. The price of a good dray horse ranges from $400 to $800; a good common road horse $600; a crab that can go in three minutes $1,000—and every second under adds a couple of hundred dollars. There are probably three hundred fast horses kept at livery in San Francisco, ranging from $800 to $1000.

CASE OF THE BABIES.—The editor of the New York Sunday Times mentions as a curious fact, that during the past week, on looking over his exchange papers, he counted no less than eleven infants, within a circle of three hundred miles, that have perished in the flames.

The Sacramento, (Cal.) Tribune says that there resides within a few miles of that city, a girl only sixteen years of age, who weighs four hundred and fifteen pounds, and is increasing in flesh at the rate of three pounds per week.

HENRY WARD BEECHER'S PLYMOUTH COLLECTION OF HYMNS AND TUNES.
From the Springfield Republican.

"Henry Ward Beecher has done many good things, but the production of this book is one of his best. It is a book of hymns and music united on the same page arranged for the purpose of Congregational singing and strictly adapted to that purpose. The music embraces most of the old favorite tunes with several new principally John Zundel and Rev. Charles Beecher, who prepared the musical department of the work. In the selection of the hymns Mr. Beecher has shown an enlightened liberality, and drawn from all the best sources of all denominations, not omitting the unexcelled devotional hymns of the Roman Catholic Church. Many hymns are divided to fit the humanities of the Gospel, to which most other collections are sadly deficient. This collection cannot fail to become widely popular, especially with all Orthodox Congregational Societies, who make singing a part of divine worship, and a grateful and artistic relief to the service of the sanctuary." Price $1.50.

Also, PLYMOUTH COLLECTION OF HYMNS without the Tunes, in various styles of binding and price. Address all Western orders to D. B. COOKE & CO., 121 Lake street, Chicago. jan5

DAILY TRIBUNE

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

WILLIAM W. PECK, EDITOR.

Saturday Morning, Jan. 5, 1856.

MISSING FILES of the DAILY TRIBUNE.—The following No.'s of the Chicago DAILY TRIBUNE are missing from our file, [illegible] Persons who will send us the above missing No.'s, or any of them, will be liberally rewarded.

Five Dollars Reward.—This office will pay five dollars reward for the detection of each newspaper thief, who steals Tribunes from the doors of our subscribers in the morning. We want to make an example of some of the young scamps. Will the police keep an eye on these juvenile thieves? They are a great nuisance.

THE NEW MARKET ORDINANCE.—From all we can learn, the new market ordinance gives far better satisfaction than did the old one. The abolishment of the market limits is particularly an excellent feature of the present ordinance, and will unquestionably do much towards cheapening the price of cut meats. The great argument urged in favor of the continuance of the limit system, was that persons could be certain of finding a great variety from which to make a choice at one place, thus saving the trouble of running about for the purpose of buying a breakfast or dinner, and that the prohibiting the sale of meats within certain limits was necessary to ensure this convenience. The reply to this argument is simple and conclusive. If the convenience of being able to find, at one place, everything wanted in the way of meats and vegetables, be so great a one as it is represented to be, people desiring to avail themselves of that convenience will do so without the aid of an ordinance, and will give the isolated markets the go-by, for the sake of making their purchases where the great variety is to be found. If there are not enough who regard the convenience so much as to do this, then it is not worth while to enact an ordinance compelling them to it.

As a principle, the city government has as much right to erect an immense building for the sale of dry goods and groceries, or of any other mercantile commodity, and compel the people living in certain portions of the city to purchase exclusively of those doing business therein, as it has to force people to buy their meats and vegetables in such buildings. If the principle is right in its application to one commodity, it is right in all. It is not right in either, and oppressive in all and upon all. Every such act, on the part of the authorities, is simply an attempt to levy an indirect revenue upon the people—probably in imitation of the petty tyrants of the smaller European principalities, who are always striving to do the same thing in pretty much the same way.

The new ordinance permits every one to sell meat wherever it may be found profitable to do so. This is right. The people want no ordinances, the tendency of which is to keep up the prices of food to a fictitious and unwarrantable mark. The more competition, the better for the purchaser, the cheaper will be the prices. Throw wide open the doors of competition in the sale of provisions, as in every thing else. No more exclusive privileges in the meat trade. We want republican, not monarchial, systems hereaway. The Council have done a good deed in the abolishment of the market limits, and it is to be hoped they will stand to what they have done. The new ordinance is not, perhaps, all that it should be, but it is vastly better than the old one.

LAKE SUPERIOR LINE FOR 1856.—In its proper place will be found the advertisement of Messrs. A. T. Spencer & Co.'s line of Lake Superior steamers. It will be seen that the arrangements for this year are much better and more complete than were those for 1855. On the opening of navigation a boat will leave Chicago every three days for Superior, and from the latter, for Chicago, as often. The line is composed of the first-class steamers Lady Elgin, Superior, Ontonagon and Ogontz. The combined freight capacity of these four boats is seventeen thousand barrels, or eight thousand five hundred barrels per week. They will run in the following order during the season: The Lady Elgin will leave Chicago for Superior and intermediate ports, on April 7th and 19th, May 1st, 13th and 30th, June 7th and 19th, July 1st, 14th and 26th, August 7th and 19th, Sept. 1st, 13th and 25th, Oct. 7th and 20th, Nov. 1st, 13th. The Ontonagon will leave Chicago for Ontonagon and intermediate ports on April 10th and 22d, May 5th, 16th and 29th, June 10th and 22d, July 4th, 17th and 29th, August 11th and 23d, Sept. 4th, 16th and 29th, Oct. 10th and 23d, Nov. 4th and 16th. The Superior will leave Chicago for Ontonagon and intermediate ports on April 14th and 26th, May 8th and 20th, June 2d, 14th, 26th, July 8th and 21st, August 2d, 14th and 26th, Sept. 8th and 20th, Oct. 2d, 14th and 27th, Nov. 8th and 20th. The Ogontz will leave Chicago for Marquette and Portage Lake, and intermediate ports, on April 17th and 29th, May 12th and 24th, June 5th, 27th and 29th, July 11th and 23d, August 4th, 16th and 28th, Sept. 9th and 22d, Oct. 4th, 16th and 28th, Nov. 10th.

The enterprise of Messrs. Spencer & Co. is most commendable. This firm is largely engaged in the Lake Superior trade, and we believe, the first to open a regular line of communication between that country and Chicago. May they reap their full reward.

NEW FIRE ENGINE.—The new "machine" for Engine Company No. 10 has arrived, and been taken possession of by the company. It is one of the largest class of "Crane Neck Piano Engines," having ten inch cylinders, with nine inch stroke. The brakes are of the most approved extension pattern, each twenty-five feet long, and can, with the extension, be manned by fifty-two persons. The openings are arranged for throwing four streams. The cost of the engine is fourteen hundred dollars, and it is a very handsome one, gotten up in the best style, with complete and tasteful appointments. It was manufactured by Wright Brothers, Rochester, N. Y. No. 10 is a fine company, and under their care the new engine will do good service in the department.

HORSE THIEF.—A man named Levi Marsh was lodged in Cook county jail on Thursday, charged with having stolen a horse from a Mr. Ballard, in Maine, Illinois. He came to the latter's house, saying he was sick and out of money, and wanted to work for his board until he got well enough to travel. After staying about the premises a day or two, he went to the stable, selected the best horse he could find, and rode him off. In the morning both horse and thief were missed, pursued, and found at a tavern where he had stayed over night. He was arrested and sent here for safe keeping.

ACCIDENT ON THE GALENA ROAD.—On yesterday, as the passenger train from this city to Fulton left Oak Ride Station, one of the rails broke, owing to the intense cold. All but the last two cars passed over in safety, but these were thrown from the track. The passengers were transferred to the other cars, and the train proceeded, with only a few minutes delay. No one was injured. The eastward bound train was delayed a short time, the track not being cleared when it reached the station. Accidents of this kind are, of course, unavoidable.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH.—A man, named J. L. Stephens, from Corning, N. Y., in crossing Wells street, from the Galena depot, yesterday, slipped and fell, striking his head against an omnibus wheel. He was immediately picked up by the bystanders, and carried into the Scott House, but died almost immediately after reaching the house. He has been at the Scott House a few days, awaiting the arrival of a son, intending to proceed with him further west. Stephens was a tall, fine-looking man, hair slightly gray, and leaves a family to mourn their sudden bereavement. The son is expected to reach the city to-day. Coroner Beach held an inquest, and a verdict was rendered in accordance with the above facts.

REV. J. C. HOLBROOK.—This gentleman resigned the charge of the New England Church, in this city, and accepted an unanimous call to the pastorate of the Congregational Church and Society, of Dubuque, to which he ministered twelve years before coming to this city. The following resolution was unanimously adopted by the New England Church, on receiving the tender of Mr. Holbrook's resignation:

Resolved, That we have undiminished confidence in, and regard for, the Rev. John C. Holbrook, as a man, a Christian, and a minister of Christ; and that we shall ever retain a grateful sense of the importance of his labors among us hitherto, and we pledge him our cordial sympathy and prayers for his usefulness and success, wherever he may deem duty calls him to labor.

Attest, BENJ. CARPENTER, Clerk.

Mr. Holbrook still retains his position in the editorial department of the Congregational Herald, of this city.

NEW LAW FIRM.—We would call especial attention to the card of Wiggins, Meech & Coventry, in another column. Mr. Wiggins is a new comer from New Hampshire, bringing with him an excellent reputation from his native State, where he has long been among the leading members of his profession. Messrs. Meech and Coventry are well known here—the first as a prominent member of the Chicago Bar, and the second as the principal business man in the office of Scammon & McCagg. We do not doubt their success.

FRIENDS FOUND.—The Coroner has ascertained that the name of the unfortunate man who was killed by the upsetting of his wagon on State street, is AARON DAVIS. He was the father of Mrs. Melius, whose husband disappeared so mysteriously last summer. He was 68 years of age, possessed of considerable property, and leaves a family. An inquest was held by the Coroner yesterday, and a verdict of accidental death rendered. His body will be taken to his home in Crete, Will county, for interment, by his two sons, who are here.

FREE TEMPERANCE LECTURE.—We are requested to announce that Prof. O. S. Fowler will deliver a free lecture at Metropolitan Hall on next Sabbath evening, at half-past seven o'clock. Subject—Temperance, as connected with Physiology and enforced by Science.

MERCURIAL.—Yesterday was cold—decidedly freezy. At 5 o'clock, A. M., the thermometer stood at eleven degrees below zero, and three hours later at 7 below.

JOB HANDS WANTED.—Two good job hands wanted at this office. Apply immediately at the counting room.

CIRCUIT COURT.—In the Court now in session the following criminal cases have been disposed of:

Sprague Bates, alias Bates Sprague, was convicted of stealing seven head of cattle from Mr. Hears, in August last, and his term in the penitentiary fixed at one year.

Patrick Brown was convicted of inciting a riot at the Summit, in this county, and his term of confinement left to the discretion of the Court.

Henry Davis, on trial for stealing a gun and sundry articles of clothing, was acquitted. L. P. Bingham for the defence.

ROBBERY.—On yesterday morning, John Brown and John West were arrested, on a charge of having robbed a man named William Lagenbahl, at a dance house on Buffalo street, on the previous night, of a watch, valued at twenty-six dollars, and twenty dollars in money. Both prisoners were committed in default of $500 bail.

OMNIBUS WINDOWS.—A subscriber suggests that the drivers of omnibusses "sing out" the names of the cross streets, as the 'bus passes, in order that the insiders may know when to get out, as the frost on the windows renders them more opaque than transparent.

EDITORIAL.—The attention of newspaper publishers is called to an advertisement under the head of "Wanted," by a gentleman from Boston, who wishes a situation as editor on a daily newspaper.

THANKS.—We are indebted to Mr. Fargo, of the American Express Company, for a batch of late California papers.

DRUNK.—Peter Ado, Wordston Bracket, and John Kinsella were fined $2 each for being drunk. These were all the watch-house cases yesterday.

J. H. THOMPSON'S POMADA OPTIME AND LIQUID HAIR-DYE.—J. H. Thompson, author of "Anatomy of the Skin," "Diseases of the Hair and Skin," &c., begs to call the attention of the American people to the above celebrated articles for the toilet.

THE POMADE OPTIME is an entirely new preparation for the Hair. It contains no one article used by any other manufacturer of compound for the hair. It contains no coloring matter or essential oils. Its splendid perfume is obtained by digesting the flowers of the Rose, Verbena, and Heliotrope, with the articles of which the Pomade is composed. By this process it will retain its magnificent scent any length of time in any climate. As an article of utility it has no rival. It will keep the skin entirely free from any unhealthy accumulation of dandruff. It excites the oily and coloring secretions of the hair, and will restore and keep them in a healthy condition—thus preventing their falling off or turning prematurely grey. Ladies using this Pomade require to use no bonnet-caps, for if the hair is thoroughly cleansed before applying the Pomade, the head will not soil the most delicate fabric with which it may come in contact.

TESTIMONY OF MISS LOUISA PYNE. "NEW YORK, Sept. 26, 1854. "Mr. J. H. THOMPSON—Dear Sir: Please forward me two jars of Pomade Optime, same as you last sent. Let it be packed for traveling. I find my hair has much improved since using your preparation, and has entirely ceased falling out. If the present improvement continues, I shall pronounce your Pomade one of the most valuable and delightful cosmetiques for the hair, and not only continue to use it myself, but recommend it to my friends. "I am, dear sir, yours truly, "LOUISA PYNE."

CERTIFICATE OF DR. CHILTON. "Being acquainted with the composition of the "Pomade Optime," manufactured by Mr. J. H. Thompson, I can state that the article is well calculated to improve the growth and appearance of the hair. JAMES R. CHILTON, M.D., Chemist. New York, June 8th, 1854." Price, 25 cents, 50 cents, and $1.00 per bottle; family jars $3.00. J. H. THOMPSON, 6 Warren street, New York.

J. H. THOMPSON'S INSTANTANEOUS LIQUID HAIR DYE. This dye is, without any exception, the best ever manufactured. Nothing sold in America or Europe, of any other make, will bear the least comparison with it. The proprietor publicly guarantees that it will dye red or grey hair to any shade of brown or black in one minute, and the color is upon the head it will not fade or change color. It differs from all other dyes in its effect on the fibres of the hair, as, instead of making the hair harsh and brittle, it will stain the skin.

CERTIFICATE OF DR. CHILTON. "Having examined the Hair-Dye prepared by Mr. J. H. Thompson, I can recommend it as being properly prepared and well calculated to answer the purpose for which it is intended. JAMES R. CHILTON, M. D., Chemist. New York, June 8, 1854." This certificate, from a scientific gentleman so well known as Dr. Chilton, renders the publication of any other certificates unnecessary, as it is a sufficient guaranty of the genuineness of the article. Sold wholesale and retail, by J. H. THOMPSON, 6 Warren street, New York. Price, $1 and $2 per case. Sent by express to any part of the United States. Wholesale and Retail, of RAY & BALDWIN, 139 Lake st., Chicago. Who can supply the trade at the manufacturer's prices.
